Summer 2023
Students entering 2nd Grade

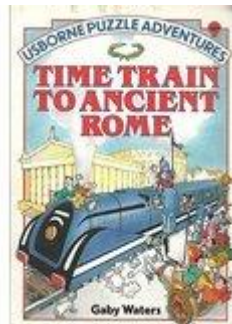

Dear Parents,

After many years of teaching and being a reader myself, I find my love of reading and the desire to encourage and foster that life-long love of reading in the students who pass through my classroom only grows. It is my hope that we, the teachers at St. Agatha Academy, will help develop in our students a taste for the best literature, give them the tools to choose books at the best reading and interest level, and motivate them to read more great books.

While summer is a time to relax and enjoy family and friends, it can also include time to read together, helping children see that leisure can and should include learning. My suggestions for up and coming second graders are with this in mind.

Poetry books for children are wonderful to read aloud and read together. I would love for each student to find a poem they love this summer and memorize it for our first day of school.

Second Grade is the Roman Year, this book would be a nice introduction to our historical year.

These books and series of books are wonderful and delightful. Hopefully, in these there will be something of interest to everyone. There are a variety of reading levels represented here. If something is too difficult, read it together. The best thing is to enjoy the time spent reading.

Have a wonderful and restful summer!
